General Study Information

Introduction

If a person (e.g., enumerator) will conduct the consent process:
IPA version: Hello, my name is <enumerator name>. I am a researcher for Innovations for Poverty Action (IPA), a research and policy non-profit that finds and promotes effective solutions to global poverty and other problems.
Non-IPA version: Hello, my name is <enumerator name>. I am a surveyor from <insert data collection firm>, <explain what data collection firm does>.

If consent will be self-administered (e.g., an online form):
IPA version: Hello! We are Innovations for Poverty Action (IPA), a research and policy non-profit that finds and promotes effective solutions to global poverty and other problems.
Non-IPA version: Hello! We are <insert data collection firm>, <explain what data collection firm does>.

We are doing a research study on behalf of <add funding agency/organization or other institution commissioning the research>.

Why is this study being done?

The purpose of this study is to <explain research goals in language understandable to respondents>. We are inviting <you/your child/you and your child> to participate in this study because <add eligibility/screening/inclusion criteria>.

Please note that our primary focus is on research, aiming to understand <note the knowledge you expect to gain through the research>. This study is not intended to provide aid or services but rather to gather valuable insights into these areas.

Voluntary Participation

Do I have to be in the study?

You do not have to be in this study if you don't want to; it is completely voluntary.

You will not be penalized in any way (or lose any benefits you currently receive) if you refuse to participate. During the <survey/interview/etc.>, you can skip any question or stop participating at any time. After today, if you later decide you would like to withdraw your consent and stop participating in this study, you can do so by informing the research contact person listed at the end of this consent.

If respondents are employees at a firm, teachers at a school, etc.:
Your participation or nonparticipation in this study will in no way affect your employment at <insert employer here>.

If there is any circumstance where the research team would terminate a subjects' participation:
If the research team determines that <describe circumstances where PI would terminate a subjects' participation in the research>, you will be removed from the study.

Research Procedures

What is involved in this study?
If you choose to participate in this study, we will ask you to <describe data collection procedure – e.g., complete a survey, participate in a focus group>. This <survey/interview/etc.> will take approximately <duration> of your time. We will ask you questions about <describe topics to be covered – e.g., household information, education, savings behaviors, any sensitive topics, etc.>.

If the study involves randomization, intervention, etc.:
Default language:
You also may be randomly assigned to <describe possible intervention(s) – e.g., be invited to participate in a training, receive SMS messages about xyz>.
If you wish to be less explicit about your randomization design to avoid potential biases:
In this study, participants are randomly assigned to different groups which may receive different interventions. While you will be informed about the version of the study you have been assigned to, you will not be informed about the different versions that other participants are in.

Random assignment to different groups in this study will be conducted by a computer (or other automated system)—this means that nobody (not you or anyone on the research team) can affect your chances of being assigned to any group.

If the participant will be asked to participate in more than one procedure (for example, a survey AND a focus group):
You <may/will> also be asked to <describe other data collection procedures, including duration>, where we will ask you questions about <describe topics to be covered>.

If the study will involve follow-up data collections:

If you know how many times you expect to return:

We also plan to return <number of times> in the next <total timeframe> for  follow-up <survey/interview/etc.>, but you are free to decline participation in the follow-up<s> if you wish.

If you are not sure how many times you will return:

We also plan to return in the future for some follow-up <surveys/interviews/etc.>, but you are free to decline participation in the follow-ups if you wish.

Other Procedures

What else is involved in this study?

If this data collection will be audio- or video-recorded:

We would like to <audio/video> record <all/parts> of today's survey <specify purpose – e.g., to help us validate the quality of the data collected, for further analysis, etc.>.

If you wish to collect GPS coordinates:

We would <also> like to record the GPS location of this <survey/interview/etc.> <specify purpose – e.g., to help us validate that we are collecting data in the right place, for location-based analysis, etc.>.

If you wish to photograph participants:

If you do not plan to share photos publicly:

We would <also> like to take photographs of <be as specific as possible about what will be photographed> for <specify purpose – e.g., to allow us to analyze xyz>.

If you plan to use photos publicly in presentations, publications, etc.:

We would <also> like to take photographs of <be as specific as possible about what will be photographed> for use in publications or presentations about the study. <Explain any steps you will take to preserve anonymity for photo subjects if photos will be used publicly, e.g., photographing from behind.> Even though we will take these steps to preserve your anonymity, it still may be possible to identify you as a participant in this study if someone recognizes you in photos that are shared publicly.

If participants can opt out of this:

This is not mandatory—you can still participate in this study if you do not consent to <audio recording/video recording/GPS data collection/photography>, and there will be no negative consequences for opting out.

If mandatory:

This is required for participation in the study—if you do not wish to <be recorded/have these GPS data collected/be photographed>, that is fine, but you will not be able to participate in the study.

These <audio recordings/video recordings/GPS data/photos> will be securely destroyed as soon as possible once they are no longer needed, and only anonymous responses will be stored for future use.

If the data collection involves…

Anthropometric measurements:

We also would like to measure your <height/weight/etc.>.

Biospecimen & biometric data collection:

We also would like to <collect/measure> your <heart rate/blood pressure/stress levels/etc.>. To do this, we will <explain procedure – e.g., put a cuff on your arm to take your blood pressure, prick your finger to collect a single drop of blood, etc.>. <Explain if participants will be informed of any relevant health information, e.g., high blood pressure.>

If participants can opt out of this:

This is not mandatory—you can still participate in this study if you do not consent to <list specific anthropometric measurements/biospecimen collection/etc.>. There will be no negative consequences for opting out.

If mandatory:

This is required for participation in the study—if you do not consent to <list specific anthropometric measurements/biospecimen collection/etc.>, that is fine, but you will not be able to participate in the study.

If collecting physical samples:

We will make every effort to keep the samples collected from you secure and ensure that they are only handled by authorized members of the research team.

Compensation

Will I be paid or given anything to take part in this study?

If yes:

As a token of thanks for your participation, you will receive <describe compensation, including amount & method of delivery, e.g., mobile money> for completing this <survey/interview/etc.>. <If participants will be compensated for any other procedures, mention this as well.>

If no:

You will not be compensated for participating in this <survey/interview/etc.>.

Benefits

Are there benefits to taking part in this study?

If subjects may benefit from participating in the study:

You might benefit from being in this study <state how participants might benefit – e.g., if participants may receive information via SMS on farming best practices>.

If there are no direct benefits to subjects:
You may not receive any personal benefits from being in this study. However, the knowledge gained from this study has the potential to benefit others in the future. By participating, you are playing a role in advancing our understanding and potentially improving outcomes for <note community that may benefit from the research in the long run – e.g., at-risk youth in xyz city>.
